

Project RELISH

Recognizing and Empowering Local Initiatives for a Sustainable Habitat

Indian Pollution Control Association (IPCA) is proud to initiate Project RELISH with the objective of recognizing, appreciating and building capacities of organizations working on solid waste management.

Major take-aways

Organizations will be selected from across the country to showcase their work and enhance their capacities on solid waste management. These organizations will get-

- Opportunity to share its initiatives in the form of interviews and blogs using social media/online platforms of IPCA
- Opportunity to participate in an intensive training program organized by IPCA to improve the skills/capacities of the organization (proposal writing, financial management, documentation, communication, and other topics relevant to the sector)
- Opportunity to connect with other like-minded organizations and corporate houses across the country

Who can apply?

- The project is open to organizations/agencies working to contribute in management of solid waste
- The organization should be able to demonstrate successful models of waste management
- The organization should be undertaking work that brings a positive impact in the area with respect to waste management
- The organization should be willing to share details about its work
